IMPLEMENTING GUIDELINES ON THE CONDUCT OF TRAININGS AND SEMINARS

POLICY NO. 02-2006

A. In-House Training

1. In-house training needs may emanate from any office or department basing from factors like low productivity, low morale, occurrence of errors and/or accidents, or emergence of new technologies, products, among others.
2. From heads of these offices, coordination should be made with the Training Officer to prepare a course outline, topics/subjects, speakers, budget, level of participants and other related requirements to justify the conduct of said training or seminar.
3. The proposed training design shall be submitted to the General Manager for approval with corresponding Authority to Conduct. The General Manager has the option to study the proposal or seek comments from other offices before final approval.
4. The approved proposal shall then be submitted/routed to all offices for the inclusion of other personnel/participants that handles jobs related to the seminar or maybe for a near future use. Participants to training and seminars who cannot put into practice what has been taught shall not be included for reason that it is a waste of time, money and effort. Participants shall be limited to an average of thirty (30) to avoid overcrowding to better internalize and understand the discussions.
5. All identified participants should be notified accordingly and work schedules should be adjusted if necessary. The conduct of training/seminar should have a well-prepared venue and amenities conducive to learning.
6. Close monitoring on the progress of the seminar should be made in order to hopefully attain its objectives.
7. A post activity evaluation from the participants before culmination/closing should be made soliciting comments and suggestions for the improvement of the conduct of similar seminar or another.
8. A post activity report shall be prepared by the Training Officer copy furnish all concerned and maintaining a file copy for record purposes. Close out of all accountabilities shall be made at least three (3) days after the training.

B. Off-Plant Training/Seminar

For outside training/seminar invitation, a course outline/topics should be included with indicated level of participants. After notation from the General Manager, the invitation shall be coursed through different offices or departments for selection of participants to be submitted to HRMDD for final listing and preparation of travel order. Participants should be able to re-echo the knowledge and understanding obtained from the seminar and submit the necessary reports to be monitored by the HRMDD.

MEMORANDUM

TO/FOR : All EMPLOYEES

SUBJECT : AMENDMENTS TO BENECO POLICY NO. 01-2010

DATE : 13 September 2011

This pertains to BENECO Policy No. 01-2010 (BENECO RECOGNITION AND AWARDS FOR VALOR AND EXCELLENT SERVICE PROGRAM (BRAVO-es), specifically on the computation of years of service for the service awardees.

Our policy states that "the award is granted to an employee who has rendered continuous service to BENECO for the first (5) years and every five (5) years thereafter. Counting of years of service shall start from the date of probationary period."

Per BENECO practice for the previous years however, counting of years of service starts from the date of employment whether temporary/contractual/casual employment.

In view of the above, please be informed of the amendments for the BENECO Policy No. 01-2010 (BENECO RECOGNITION AND AWARDS FOR VALOR AND EXCELLENT SERVICE PROGRAM (BRAVO-es), specifically on the computation of years of service for the service awardees.

1. The award is granted to an employee who has rendered continuous service to BENECO for the first 5 years and every five (5) years thereafter.
2. Counting of years of service shall start from the date of employment whether temporary/contractual/casual employment and there was no interruption in the service.
3. For employees who started as trainees and later appointed as regular employees, the start of counting of years of service shall start at the 2nd year of his training contract provided that there is no break in his training contract.

Example: August 4, 2008 – January 4, 2009 (5 months)	} Trainee Contract
January 5, 2009 – June 3, 2009 (5 months)
June 2, 2009 – August 3, 2009 (2 months)
August 4, 2009 – Sep. 4, 2009 (1 month)
September 5, 2009 – March 5, 2010 – probationary period
March 6, 2010 – present - regular

The counting of length of service will start on August 4, 2009.

4. The counting of years of service shall be based on the actual years of service and cut-off period will be on the 5th day of October. The previous practice of considering six (6) months and one (1) day service as one year service shall be discontinued since the award was meant to recognize actual number of years rendered.

Thank you.
